

Managed Services for Power Platform

A Complete Low-Code Program — Experts Included

Why simply have a Power Platform project when you can have a Power Platform program?

Argano's powerhouse team of Power Platform developers and engineers will work with your team to create tools, integrations, AI bots, BI dashboards, workflows, and more, helping you leverage all Power Platform has to offer: in the here and now, and down the road.

Argano Managed Services for Power Platform (MSPP) is designed to help you get exactly what you want from Power Platform.

With this revolutionary and evolutionary new program, you'll receive all the expertise and support you require: hands-on development by our experts, Fusion development with your team, training, workshops, maintenance, service and more — all designed to serve your strategy.

Collaborative Workshops

We kick off the engagement with immersive workshops, bringing all stakeholders together. These sessions promote knowledge sharing, foster a shared understanding of goals, rapid solution prototyping and facilitate open communication among citizen developers, pro developers, and the IT department.

The outcome is a collection of new ideas to address your business challenges, and a roadmap of next actions designed to support your ongoing strategic goals.

Customized Development Framework

Before beginning to help create apps, bots, connectors, and data visualizations, our team of Power Platform experts will help you develop a tailored development framework that aligns with your unique organizational realities and requirements.

This framework will serve as a guiding light for our collective team to collaborate and standardize practices to build high value solutions.

Training and Skill Development

One of the primary objectives of this program is empowering your team to independently leverage Power Platform to the fullest extent. And this means training and upskilling.

Through comprehensive training programs, we'll bridge any knowledge gaps and empower end users, pro developers, and your IT department to leverage Power Platform effectively. From basic, modular low-code development to advanced customizations and builds, we've got you covered.

Benefits:

- Custom development: apps, bots, data visualizations, and more
- Collaborative workshops and coaching with Argano experts
- Training and upskilling: our expertise, passed to your team
- Support for your staff, service for your low-code platform

Performance Monitoring and Optimization

We believe in continuous improvement. Our team will help ensure superior performance in your new "tech factory," identify areas for optimization, and provide recommendations to enhance efficiency, quality, and collaboration. We'll help you adapt and evolve as your organization's needs grow.

Ongoing Support and Guidance

We'll always be here when you need us. We provide ongoing support to address any challenges or questions that may arise before, during, and after any development process. From strategic guidance to hands-on coaching and direction to "pressure testing" and problem solving, our experts will be just a call or email away.
